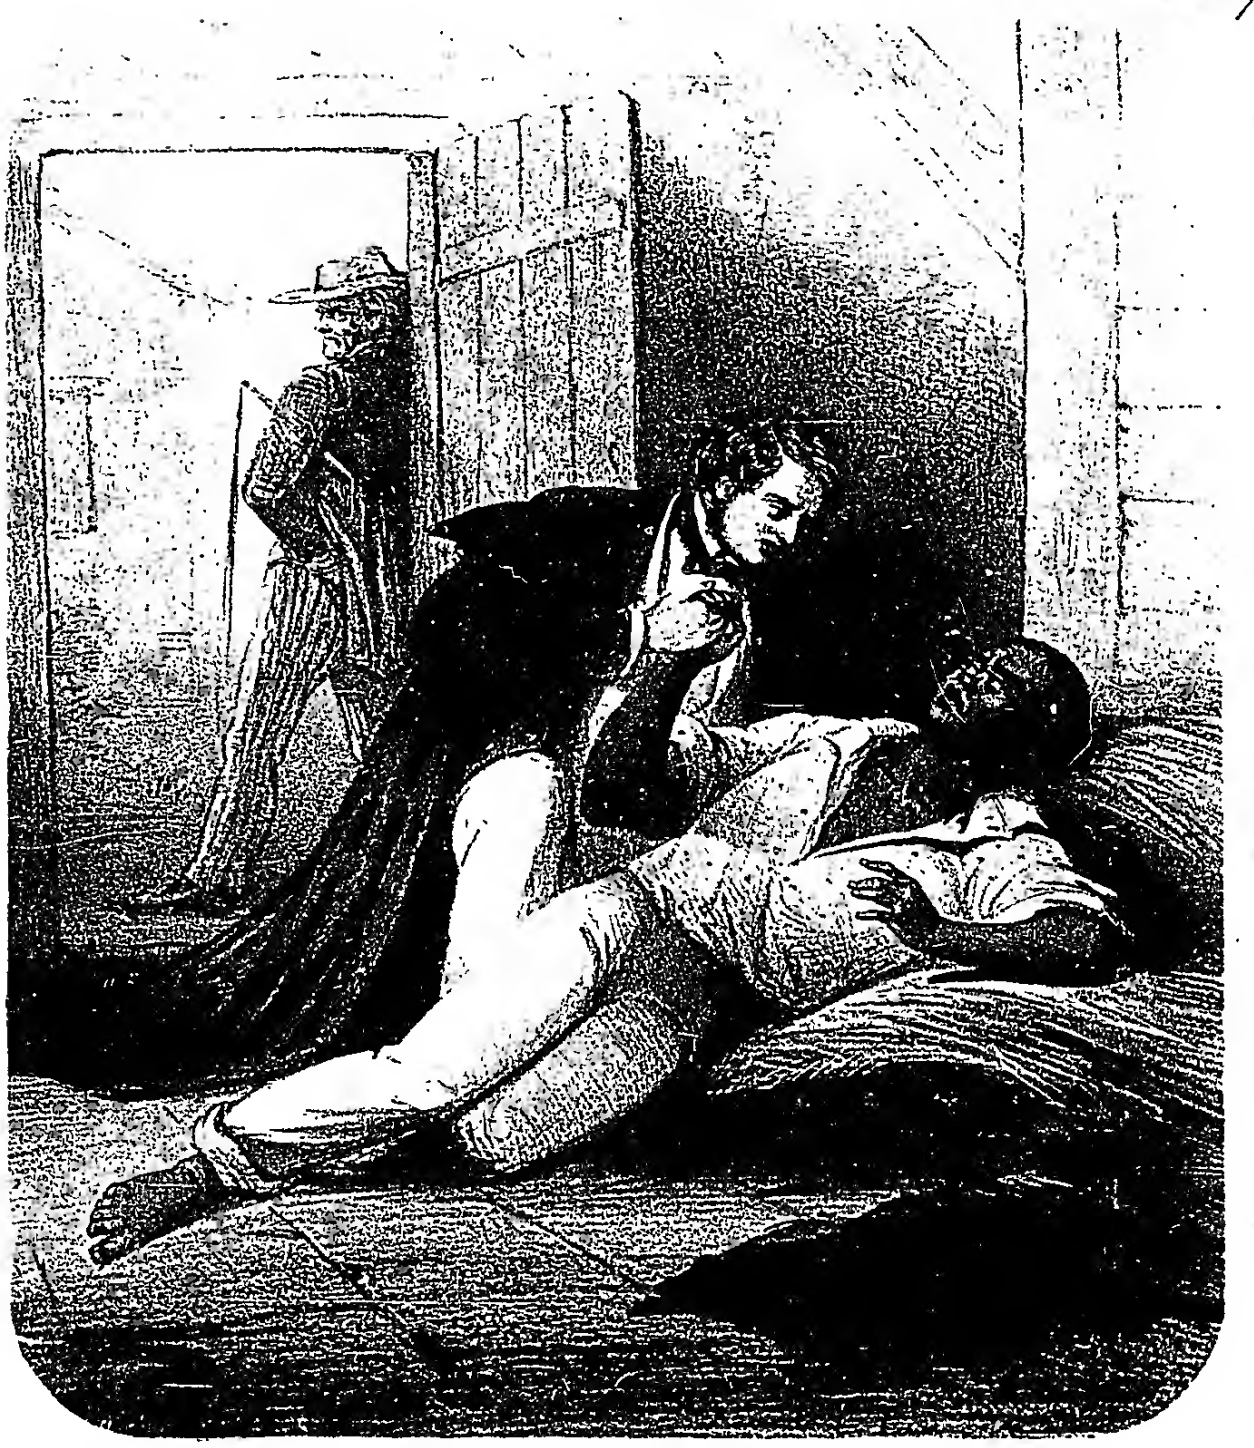
UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

Miss Harriet Whiting

THE DEATH OF UNCLE TOM.



J. BRANDARD

"O, Mas'r George Shelby has come! I've got the victory!"

COMPOSED BY

ALFRED MULLER,

OF THE ROYAL UNIVERSITY BERLIN

Price 2/

LONDON;

B. WILLIAMS, 11 PATERNOSTER ROW, & 170 G^t DOVER ROAD.

THE DEATH OF UNCLE TOM.

"Bless the Lord! it is-it is-it's all I wanted! they haven't forgot me. It warms my soul; it does my old heart good! Now I shall die content.

"Don't call me poor fellow said Tom solemnly "I have been poor fellow but that's all past and gone now. O Mas'r George!— Heaven has come! I've got the Victory!

See Uncle Tom's Cabin. Chapter XLI.

THE POETRY BY R. KITCHEN. COMPOSED BY ALFRED MULLEN.

I can now con--tent--ed die, Since one kind friend is stand-ing by; It glads my heart that form to see; At home they've not for--got--ten me.
grazioso
Oh! tell them not how Tom was found, Sore wound-ed ly----ing on the ground; I bless them all ere

con

life is past; Oh! say I lov'd them to the last, Oh!

energia.

say..... I lov'd them to the last, Oh! say.....

ff p pp

..... I lov'd them to the last.

ff p

Oh!

p

do not do not pi ...ty me; 'Ere long the poor slave
p
will be free, I have been poor, but soon shall rise, To bright -- er man-sions in the skies.
grazioso.
I feel I feel my hour is come, I jour---ney to my Fa---ther's home, Bless bless his name! The con slave is free, I've fought and won the vic..to..ry, I've energia.

fought..... and won the vic...to..ry, I've fought ff
p
pp
..... and won the vic..to..ry.....
ff
p >pp